

All teams will follow the training schedule listed below for the dates covered. To avoid posting a training schedule and dealing with certain and consistent cancellations, we have targeted weekends as an opportunity to maximize all possibilities of getting on the fields. It is much more tolerable to practice in cold weather in the daytime than in the dark. If the weather outlook begins to significantly change over the course of the next two weeks, we may insert some additional outdoor sessions. These will be day by day and team by team with as much notice as we can give. We will start regular weekday sessions for all team Monday February 15th. Teams will resume the training days and times from the Fall season unless otherwise notified by your manager.
